

SECRET OF THE STREAMER

偽娘直播中

When a crossdressing live streamer discovers by chance that his workaholic boss is obsessed with his female alter ego, he decides to use the situation to improve his work environment. Begun with a deception, their online relationship develops along unexpected lines, however...

Vincent Chang, a second-generation rich kid, falls out with his parents and into a financial crisis when he comes out of the closet. But since his top skill is playing video games, he comes to the carefully considered conclusion that his best bet for making some money is to transform himself into a female video game live streamer. Due to the tremendous popularity of his live stream alter ego, however, he keeps his double identity after he finds a job, becoming male office worker Vincent by day, and female live streamer Viviel at night.

One day, Vincent discovers that his snarky boss, Tuan Ke-chun, has made a photo of Viviel the wallpaper on his phone. In the photo, she is holding a handwritten sign thanking her super fan Ark. This makes Vincent wonder: could Ark, his most ardent supporter, and Tuan Ke-chun be the same person? Viviel creates an opportunity for a private video chat with Ark – and it really is Tuan Ke-chun! What's more, he doesn't realize that Viviel is in fact Vincent.

Several video chats later, Vincent realizes that the seemingly hardcore workaholic Ke-chun is in fact a shy man not very good at expressing himself. He decides he will use his Viviel persona to turn Ke-chun into a nicer boss so that everyone can feel more relaxed at work....

This lighthearted romance is a journey into self-awareness set in motion by a deception. The tension of a secret waiting to be discovered combined with the sweet emotions of two people falling in love showcases author Yukimori Cheng's superb skill in keeping readers hooked.
