

I DON'T WANT TO EAT BROCCOLI

我不想吃花椰菜

When a little boy doesn't want to eat broccoli because he's scared of hurting it, his imaginative mum suggests he gives it a haircut instead!

"I don't want to eat broccoli because I don't want to hurt it!" When a little boy who doesn't want to eat broccoli gives such an imaginative reason, how should a parent respond? With an imaginative solution, of course! His mum suggests he use his teeth as scissors and give them a haircut instead!

A lot of children don't like broccoli. This book offers an appealing and interesting way to encourage children to eat it.

Text by Sui Ri 日穗

A children's author, her works include I Don't Want to Eat Broccoli.

Illustrated by Hsueh Hui-Yin 薛慧瑩

Hsueh Hui-Yin is an illustrator, mother, and housewife. Her work is often seen on covers of children's novels. Her comic book publications include Big and Small: Everyday Battles between Mothers and Children, and her picture books include Sleepwalking, Mr. Alzheimer and Dear Grandma.

Publisher: Kang Hsuan

Date: 11/2016

Rights contact:

booksfromtaiwan.rights@gmail.com

Pages: 32

Size: 29.7 x 21 cm

Age: 3+

Rights sold: Korean

I DON'T WANT TO EAT BROCCOLI

Translated by Helen Wang

p.6-7

"Why aren't you eating your broccoli?" asked Mum.

p.8-9

Because I don't want to.

p.10-11

Why not?

Because... I don't want to hurt them.

p.12-13

Oh... Does it hurt when you have your hair cut?

No.

Then why don't you be a barber, and cut their hair instead?

p.14-15

There are five pieces of broccoli on the plate.

p.16-17

You can use your teeth as scissors.

p.18-19

Let's give them special haircuts!

p.20-21

A little bite here, a little bite there.

p.22-23

A tall, spiky cut for this one. A bird's nest for this one.

Green pussy cat ears for this one.

This one's bald on top like Grandpa.

And this one's completely bald!

p.24-25

Can I have a haircut too?